County's Cable Commission Studies Legal Hold Over Prime's Fee Rise

by Elaine Skolnik

The Prince Georges County Cable Commission on March 21 instructed William Hysell, Prime Cable Inc.'s general manager, to provide further justification for the steep increase in the Universal tier's installation charge. Concerned that the increase was discriminatory, the commission requested a response in writing, that it be submitted 10 days prior to the commission's April 18 meeting and that it contain data dealing with the impact on subscribers of such an exorbitant installation charge.

County attorney Ralph Grutzmacher was also instructed to look into "the depth of authority" and alternatives available to the commission—in particular whether it has the authority to prohibit Prime Cable from charging such a high installation fee.

Since the federal 1984 Cable Act took away rate-setting responsibilities and rights from municipalities, cable companies have been free to set their own rates. However, Grutzmacher opined: "There may be a question as to whether an installation fee is a regulated rate or not." Before making a determination, he is studying a recent U. S. Supreme Court opinion on cable regulation.

The new rates initially quoted by Prime for installation of the Universal service ranged from $150 to $350. Later, Hysell said, a firm figure of $99.50 was set for hook-up costs applying to both new Universal subscribers and to subscribers already receiving cable service but wishing to downgrade their present level of service from, for example, Cable Plus to Universal. The subscriber would then own a converter designed for the Universal tier only, with maintenance provided by Prime. No refund would be given if subscribers wished to upgrade their service at a later date.

Along with the increased installation charge that was mandated by Prime's corporate headquarters in Texas, the monthly Universal fee was reduced from $7.95 to $3. The Universal tier, the lowest level of service, provides 27 channels that include network, independent and Public Broadcasting originating from Washington and Baltimore. This tier also offers a variety of local and public access channels, including Greenbelt and County Council meetings and educational and public service programs.

At the time cable companies were bidding for county and municipal franchises, they touted the minimum tier, such as Universal, as one that would reach as many people as possible. Their proposals featured this tier in an effort to gain the franchise.

In his March 15 letter to Prime's president Winfield Kelly, Jr., City Manager James K. Giese charged Prime with "reneging" on its promise to offer a low cost cable service.

John Askew, the commission's executive director said: "I would have to be frank and say that (the Universal installation fee) is outrageous . . . too high for that level of service." He noted that in the view of one caller "the (Universal) service was aimed at people in the lower economic strata of service . . . and therefore they would be discouraged from using that service."

Askew said that he learned about the increased fee from a "caller." The January 1, 1988 schedule of rates given to the cable commission by Prime included the $3 monthly fee for Universal. However, the only installation rate listed was $25.

The commission's concern with the $99.50 Universal hook-up charge was its disparity with the general $25 installation rates. This, commission members felt, could be characterized as discrimination. Grutzmacher said, "It is clear that (the commission) can order that rates for similar activities be the same for all classes of service."

Hysell Response

Hysell explained that the $99.50 installation charge was based on what Universal was

City Responds Strongly

by Elaine Skolnik

The increased installation charge for the Universal tier drew fire from Greenbelt officials and subscribers. Renee Bryan, the city's public information and communications coordinator, told the Cable Commission at their March 21 meeting that municipalities had not been notified of the changed rates. She said she had learned about the increase from Greenbelt residents including Eunice Coxon, who had also informed the cable commission.

Bryan pointed out that Prime's action "goes against the original proposal" (by Storer Cable which later sold the system to Prime). She read sections of City Manager James K. Giese's March 15 letter to Prime President Winfield Kelly, Jr.

Commenting on the $99.50 installation charge, which would give the subscriber ownership of a converter, Giese said, "The city questions Prime's authority to sell its equipment since the city's franchise agreement and, we understand, other agreements in Northern Prince Georges County, provides under the 'Conditions of Residential Service' . . . that 'all equipment remains the property of Storer (Prime), who shall be responsible for its full maintenance.'"

In his March 28 response to Giese, William Hysell, Prime's general manager, said that Prime was responsible for maintenance of its subscribers' converters and that "we are clearly keeping with the intent of the city's franchise agreement . . ." Hysell later told the News Review

Cinema 'n' Drafthouse Beer License Discussion

The Greenbelt City Council will discuss an application for beer and wine service for the proposed Cinema 'n' Drafthouse at the Utopia Theater in Roosevelt Center on Tuesday, April 12 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building. The Prince Georges County Liquor Board will consider the application on Thursday, April 28 at 9 a.m. in the County Service Building in Hyattsville (Room 200). The city council's opinion on the license is only advisory.

The Cinema 'n' Drafthouse is being proposed by Peter and Robert Carney, operators of the Bethesda Cinema n' Drafthouse on Wisconsin Avenue. However, the applicant will be competing for a class B beer and wine license against P&G Theatres Inc. of Silver Spring, who are applying to operate the Andrews Manor Twin Theatres in Camp Springs. The Liquor Board has only one license to grant.

Hearing on New Master Plan

by Elaine Skolnik

Staff members of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission will brief the Greenbelt City Council on the status of the proposed Master Plan for Langley Park/Greenbelt/College Park (PA 65, 66, 67) on Thursday, April 14. Open to the public, the work session will be held in the council chambers of the Municipal Building at 8 p.m.

Paul Aggarwal, project planner, will explain the proposed recommendations in the preliminary plan draft, with special reference to Greenbelt. Frank Derro, chief of the transportation division, will respond to questions dealing with transportation issues. Harry Neff, chief of the area planning division (N/SE), and Joe Chang, project planner, will also be present.

Paul Fields, project planner for the Adopted Lanham/Glenn Dale/Seabrook Master Plan, will brief council on pending development applications in the corridor that passes through Greenbelt. MNCPPC staff will also discuss present and future development in the northern area, including Laurel and vicinity.

Adopted in 1970, the Greenbelt/College Park and Vicinity Master Plan has been under revision for several years. (Langley Park is now included in the area plan.) Working along with staff during the past two years to develop the preliminary plan has been the Citizens Advisory Committee, composed of a cross-section of the populace from the Langley Park/Greenbelt/College Park area.

The Prince Georges County Planning Board has already approved the draft of the preliminary plan for publication, after which it will be made available to the general public.

A joint public hearing of the County Council sitting as the District Council and the Planning Board will be held June 7 at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. The MNCPPC staff will prepare an analysis of the testimony, offer staff comments and recommendations and transmit the information to Planning Board members, who will determine whether to adopt the plan or to request that changes be made.

When the Planning Board adopts the plan, with or without amendments, it will be forwarded to the District Council along with an analysis. The District Council can approve the plan or it can request that further work be done or call for an additional public hearing. The plan will also be sent for review to the County Executive and municipalities.

After the District Council approves the Master Plan for Langley Park/Greenbelt/College Park it will direct the MNCPPC staff to prepare a Sectional Map Amendment reflecting the necessary zoning changes to implement the plan.

CYO, Little League at Odds

by Mavis Fletcher

At the Greenbelt City Council meeting on April 4, there was a prolonged discussion of a Greenbelt Little League policy which excludes youths from playing baseball on both a Little League team and a Catholic Youth Organization team. After a discussion which lasted more than an hour, Mayor Weidenfeld prevailed upon both sides to get together and try to resolve the issue. He pointed out that the city (which contributes money to this and other youth sports groups through the Recreation Department budget) does not run the organizations. Representatives from both sides agreed to meet and pressed Weidenfeld to chair the meeting. Weidenfeld agreed and the meeting was scheduled for Friday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the city council chambers.

Exclusion Charged

According to William Barron, Jr. of Lastner Lane, who brought the issue before council as a petition, CYO students have been playing in both teams for years. Barron charged that the new interpretation of the rule is based on a national Little League rule limiting participation of players to the Little League team with the one exception playing on "school teams." Under the new interpretation, Barron said, CYO teams are apparently not considered school teams.

Barron pointed out that the Greenbelt Little League has never been associated with the national organization and has for years ignored this and other rules of the national group. He said the rules were being enforced "selectively" and that this one was aimed at preventing CYO youths from playing.

Board Defense

Charles Attick, president of the Greenbelt Little League board, defended enforcement of the national rule on the grounds that the local organization's constitution states that the local league's procedures will follow the National Little League's rules. He also based his defense on the welfare of the players: for example, the Little League has a rule that pitchers must rest three days between games: if a pitcher is playing on another team, the coach might not know whether he is pitching too much. "I think some children are being played too hard," he said.

Jose Morales, who said he had been a Little League coach for 30 years, said the board is merely trying to enforce what is in the rules.

After a lengthy discussion, during which council members asked questions and suggested possible compromises, Weidenfeld counseled that the board should open up the questions to input from the maximum number of parents and members. Morales pointed out that an early meeting is necessary because the baseball season starts this month. The Friday night meeting is open to all parents and other interested citizens.

Gray Panthers Sponsor Play on Mental Illness

by Esther Webb

Gray Panthers invite local residents to an interesting and unusual play Saturday, April 16 at 1:30 p.m. in the Greenbelt Library. A free live performance of "M.I. the Double Scarlet Letter" will be presented by the Center Players. This play is about Andy, a person recovering from mental illness, who returns home from the hospital, only to discover home isn't what it used to be. Everyone has changed.

The one-act play focuses dramatic action around the consequences of Andy's encounter with his family, friends, the public and himself. The audience catches riveting glimpses of hospital life, what it feels like to be mentally ill, and how frightening and isolating mental illness is, not only for the patient, the family, but for everyone.

The play, authored by Dr. Robert S. Maseroni, is derived from his interviews with over sixty ex-patients, professionals and family members. With each line comes the truth, the humor, the sadness, and the realities of recovery. Following the 25-minute play will be a discussion led by a panel of experts.

The "Center Players" are both recovering people and people who have never been ill who are integrated in all phases of the development and production. The play is produced by the Center for Community Development and Mental Health Association, both of Prince Georges County, and funded by the Mental Hygiene Administration.

"The Double Scarlet Letter" has already played in the area churches and the Sylvan Theatre in Washington. It is on tour in the greater Washington area, with scheduled performances in Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia.

Free refreshments will be served.

The police have received a federal grant to be used for programs to reduce traffic fatalities.

NEW MISS GREENBELT AMERICA TO SUCCEED CINDY ASTLIN

by Rusty Beeg

Area residents will have an opportunity on Sunday, April 17 to preview the talents of at least two contestants in the "Miss Maryland" competition which decides who will represent the state at "Miss America". On that date the Greenbelt Arts Center will be the scene of the sixth "Miss Greenbelt America" competition where Cindy Astlin, Greenbelt's 1987 representative, will pass her crown on to the city's 1988 standard bearer.

Astlin, a country singer, will perform some of the selections she is considering for the state competition this summer where she hopes to carry into the winner's circle the "Miss Prince Georges County" title she earned last November. The girl to whom Astlin passes her Greenbelt title will have won based on the highest total of points for her talent (50% of the score), gown, swimsuit and interview presentations and will become one of Astlin's friendly rivals for the state crown.

The "Miss America" system, which is non-profit and operated primarily by volunteers, is the largest single source of scholarship funds for women in the world, awarding over $5 million at local, state and national levels annually. Greenbelt Unit No. 136, American Legion Auxiliary has sponsored the Greenbelt local as a part of its education program and has found that the young women who compete have been more than willing to participate in other areas such as entertaining hospitalized veterans and raising funds for charities such as the American Cancer Society.

Astlin, a good case in point, has had an extremely busy year, serving as a judge at the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Pageant, as a member of the Press Corps at the "Miss America" Pageant, performing at the American Legion Auxiliary Convention in Ocean City, entertaining at Veterans' Hospitals around the state and performing at state pageants in Virginia, Georgia and Texas.

The first contestant to wear the Greenbelt banner into the semifinals at the "Miss Maryland" Pageant, Astlin was "discovered" by a member of the audience and became a regular performer at the "Appalachian Jubilee" (billed as the north's "Grand Old Opry") in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. Her performances there have led to an appearance on a new television show called "Keystone Country" which she taped on April 4 and which may be scheduled for viewing by Washington area audiences sometime this summer.

Audiences at the upcoming "Miss Greenbelt America" Pageant can count on some professional entertainment as well as a firsthand look at two girls who have the potential to appear on national television as a contender for the "Miss America" crown.

PG Audubon Group Holds Bird Walk on April 16

The Prince Georges Audubon Society is sponsoring a half-day birding trip to the Fran Uhler Natural Area on the Patuxent River on Saturday, April 16. Meet at 7:30 a.m. behind the Big Boy Restaurant on Greenbelt Road. Everyone is welcome. Bring binoculars, but call first—Leonard Lutwack, 864-9424.

Pedestrian Fatality On Kenilworth Ave.

A pedestrian was struck by a car and killed on April 1 at 7:25 p.m. in the southbound lane of Kenilworth Ave. about a quarter mile south of Greenbelt Road. Michael A. Cosby, 19, was crossing Kenilworth Ave. toward the Westchester Park apartments where he lived when he was struck by a car driven by a resident of Washington, D.C. According to a report from the Greenbelt Police Department, the driver tried to avoid the victim but was unsuccessful. After being interviewed by investigators, the driver was released without charge.

The victim was taken to the Prince Georges Hospital Center by county fire department paramedics. He was later pronounced dead at the hospital.

Bus Service Extended For Handicapped Riders

The Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority expanded regularly scheduled lift-equipped bus service to 14 new routes beginning April 3, 1988. This will make using the Metrobus system easier for people with disabilities. Buses in the Greenbelt area that are lift-equipped are C-2 Beltway Plaza-Twinbrook and the T-16 Beltway Plaza-New Carrollton.

In addition to the expanded service, the transit authority will continue to provide on-call service, where a lift-equipped bus can be assigned to any route for any trip upon request.

For additional information on how to schedule Metrobus on-call service, call 962-1825 daily from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekends and holidays. For timetables, call 637-7000.

Greenbelt NCSL Soccer

by Manuel Pereira

The National Capital Soccer League (NCSL) Greenbelt 1976-and-under team went indoors at the White Marsh facilities in Bowie during the winter to keep in shape and improve their skills. Placed in Level A of their age group where most of the teams were first division NCSL, the team did well with a 3-6 record playing some exciting games that impressed the spectators. Ball control, passing and shooting improved during the season of indoor play. The team is now practicing outdoors getting ready for the exciting season to come.

To help the families cover the cost of playing at White Marsh the team greatly appreciated the help of four local businesses. Thanks go to the Springhill Lake Pharmacy, the Springhill Lake Cleaners, the Hair Attractions in Springhill Lake, and Mail Boxes Etc., USA in Beltway Plaza for their support.

American Legion Soccer

by Sue Cornelius

Spring really is here! The women's soccer team from Greenbelt is busy getting ready for yet another exciting season in the Columbia League. The team is being sponsored by the Greenbelt American Legion, which has stood by their team through many seasons—some better than others. In all their years of play, the women have only earned one first place trophy for the Legion, but due to some new players this season, it looks good!

Coach Frank Swahl is, as always, enthusiastic about the season, and will provide the encouragement, comfort, and care necessary for a good time.

Updates will be provided throughout the season on the American Legion Women's Soccer Team. Sincere thanks to the Legion for their constant support and financial assistance, and Coach Frank for his time, energy, and devotion to the team.

offering — "an enhanced antenna service" and 17 locally broadcast channels plus various public access programs.

"We looked at the rates which were charged in the area for installing an antenna with a rotor" and found the average price to be $215, according to Hysell.

Hysell said another reason for the increased installation charge was that the $3 monthly fee would not cover operational costs.

"If we are going to offer a service at such a low level, there has got to be a way (for Prime) to be at least attempting to be somewhat fiscally responsible,"
he said.

Hysell noted that the first year's service with installation at $99.50 and a monthly fee at $3 would cost $15.15 more than the previous year's combination of $24.95 installation and $7.95 per month.

"When you take it a year beyond that, there's a $44 savings,"
he said.

However, Grutzmacher observed that Prime may well come back later and try to make a further increase based on operational costs.

City Responds

view that the Universal subscriber would own the converter.

Coxon characterized the increased hook-up fee as "excessive" and "profiteering." She also referred to an article in the March 18 Washington Post in which "Senator Howard Metzenbaum (D-Ohio) warned cable television operators . . . that Cangress will consider reregulating the industry if rates continue to rise and programming is withheld from competitors." The Senator made the statement at a hearing of the Senate Judi-ciary's subcommittee on antitrust, monopolies and business rights, which he chairs.

In letters to Senator Metzenbaum and to Representative Edward Markey (D-Mass), chair man of the House Committee on Telecommunications, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld expressed the city's concern "with the path the cable industry and its franchisee have followed since deregulation."

Weidenfeld detailed the various annual increases and said that "We believe that many residents subscribe to the Universal tier for its improvement to reception, but more importantly for the access channels that the tier offers." He noted that the $99.50 installation charge for the Universal tier "is intended to discourage people from obtaining the low cost cable service and to encourage their obtaining the higher cost more profitable service. We also feel that this is clearly a discrimination between the two levels of subscribers (Universal and higher level tiers) . . ."

Parcel One Brush Fires' Origin Under Investigation

by Bill Cornett

Fire officials are labeling as suspicious three brush fires in four days which happened near the end of Plateau Place in Parcel 1.

At 11 a.m. on Thursday, March 31, the Fire Department got a call about smoke in the area of 2 Court Northway, and similar calls from residents on Plateau Place shortly thereafter. Two engines from Co. 35 in Greenbelt were dispatched, along with a brush truck from Glenn Dale. Later, units from Beltsville and Bowie were called in to help fight the blaze.

"In all, we had about 15 men out on the fire," said Chief Michael Dutton of Co. 35. The terrain was too difficult even to get four-wheel-drive brush trucks to some parts of the blaze. "We had to run about 500 feet of hose into the woods," says Dutton. The wind caused the fire to spread on several fronts. "It (the wind) was shifting on us, and because of that, we had problems." Firemen fought the fire for two hours.

Later that day, at approximately 3 p.m., firemen were called to the same area again. Prince Georges County Fire Department Spokesman Tony DeStefano said that this second fire also may be suspicious, but was possibly an extension or rekindle of the first fire.

The following Sunday, April 3, the fire department was again called to a brush fire immediately adjacent to the first two. This blaze took an hour to put out.

"About three to five acres were burned in all three fires combined," said Chief Dutton. "We have no indications that this fire was politically motivated or related to the situation with Parcel 1."

"If anyone has any information on these fires near Plateau Place, we would like them to please contact us at 772-9080," said DeStefano. "All information will be held in strict confidence, and in some cases, rewards will be given."

DeStefano also added that residents should be careful with all combustible materials used outdoors. "People are going out of doors more often with the nice weather, and incidents of this kind are extremely possible, especially due to the lack of rain in recent weeks."

Wind and terrain add to difficulties faced by firefighters in battling blazes on Parcel 1 in the city's North End.

Police Blotter

Partial Listing Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

On Mar. 25 at 11:30 p.m. a non-resident man became the victim of an assault by a man with whom he had gotten into an altercation at the Buddy At-tick Lake Park. The latter's associates got involved and kicked the victim while he was on the ground. The victim broke free and fled to his vehicle. The group pursued him and damaged his vehicle by striking it with pipes. The victim drove to Prince Georges General Hospital and was treated for bruises to his ribs and legs. The first attacker was described as a white male, 5'7" with a stocky build. Five or six other white males were involved.

An attempted breaking and entering occurred in the 6000 block of Springhill Dr. when a male victim was awakened when he heard the Venetian blinds in his bedroom move and observed a hand protrude through the window. When the victim yelled, the suspect fled. The suspect was described as a white male, 6', 200 lbs. with black ear-length hair, wearing a white T-shirt and blue jeans. The incident occurred on Mar. 26 at about 1:30 a.m.

On Mar. 29 two women were arrested when a quantity of P-CP was found in a home on Whitebirch Court. Both of the women were charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and one was charged with intent to distribute. The women were incarcerated in lieu of bond.

On Mar. 25 between 7:15 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. an attempted and a successful breaking and entering occurred in the 8300 block of Canning Terrace. In the first attempt one or more suspects removed a ladder from the victim's shed and used it to get to the second floor. The window screen was cut but the residence was not entered, possibly because of the presence of a dog inside the residence. On the same day, entry was made through an open second floor window of another residence in the same block by using the ladder. Jewelry was removed.

After six months of investigation, members of the Greenbelt Police Department's Patrol Division, K-9 Unit and Criminal Investigations Unit executed a search and seizure warrant in the 8 Court of Laurel Hill on Mar. 25. Quantities of marijuana and CDS paraphernalia were seized. Charges are pending against the resident.

A non-resident man was assaulted by a male suspect on Mar. 31 at about 9 p.m. in the Beltway Plaza Mall after a traffic altercation. The victim said he had accidentally cut his car in front of the suspect in the parking lot. The suspect broke the driver's door on the victim's vehicle with his hands and grabbed the victim. The suspect was described as a white male, 25-35 years, 6' with a medium build, brown hair, unkempt beard and mustache. He was wearing blue uniform clothing and was driving a white 2-door Oldsmobile Cutlass or Buick.

Responding to a complaint that a man was pounding on a door in the 200 block of Lakeside Dr., Pfc. Carolyn McLean arrested a male resident for disorderly conduct after he refused to lower his voice and leave the area. The incident occurred on Mar. 24 at about midnight.

On Mar. 26 Sgt. John Lann arrested a male resident on charges of consumption of an alcoholic beverage on city property. The incident took place in the city parking lot to the rear of Roosevelt Mall. The man was released on citation pending trial.

While investigating a possible breaking and entering in the 7 Court of Research Road, the police located several marijuana plants inside the residence. A warrant was obtained and the plants, devices used to cultivate them and a quantity of marijuana were seized. Charges against the residents are pending.

On March 30 at about 9:50 a.m. a man entered an office area under construction on the fifth floor in a building in the 6400 block of Ivy Lane and asked two workers to help him put a power machine electric pipe threader on a dolly. The suspect then took the threader downstairs and left with it. He was described as a white male in his 30's, 5'8" thin build, dark hair, wearing blue jeans and an orange T-shirt. He was driving a light blue Datsun or Nissan pickup truck with a white camper cap.

Officer Thomes Keifline recovered a stolen vehicle on Mar. 26 and, with the aid of Cpl. William D. Allwang, apprehended three of the four occupants. The car had been reported stolen on Mar. 20.

Four teenage girls were victims of indecent exposure in an incident which occurred on Mar. 30 when the girls were stopped at a traffic light at Greenbelt and Mandan Roads. The suspect was described as a white male, 22-25 years old, thin build, light brown hair, driving a light blue pickup truck, possibly a Ford, with several dents.

Arts Center to Fix Leaking Roof; Fund-Raising Challenge by Friend

News of a newly hired marketing director and a benefactor's challenge to raise $1,000 in new or improved memberships were the frosting at the Arts Center's annual meeting held Sunday, March 20.

The marketing director has two projects for the coming year: to raise funds to repair the roof that leaks into the lobby area of the theater and to seek corporate sponsors for coming play productions.

The roof fund has already reached $450, 25% of the goal. Support from the community will be solicited. Some of the rental complexes in the area will begin selling tickets to Arts Center events through their recreation departments and will publicize events in their newsletters.

The challenge was issued to the membership by an anonymous benefactor who will contribute up to $500 to the Arts Center with the provision that the Center raise $1000 in new or upgraded memberships by May 30.

The play reading committee is preparing a schedule for next season and expects to have it final by the end of April. Plans are underway for a second chamber music series and a dance series. Acting workshops for children, which have been so successful this year, will be continued in the summer and also next season.

A computer was purchased for the Arts Center and is already being used for membership records and mailings. The stage has been extended by six feet and a new light bar installed. However more lights will have to be purchased to adequately light the new area. Painting of the interior of the theater will begin after the close of "A Streetcar Named Desire." The paint was donated by the Duron Corporation.

Elections were held with Kevin Kneisley elected President, and Marie Tounignant elected Vice President. Elected to the Board of Directors to two year terms were John Ward, Trix Whitehall, Ken Voigt, Tom Schreiber, Vir-

Several Greenbelters were honored at the 12th annual Outstanding Senior Citizens Award program held last month at the Greenbelt Hilton. Honorees were recognized as outstanding volunteers by organizations in the state who serve Maryland's oldest and honored by the Maryland Jaycees at the luncheon.

Helen Oring, a senior award winner, led those gathered in a round of Happy Birthday as Maryland Comptroller Louis Goldstein was presented with a big birthday cake. Other honorees from Greenbelt include Florence Buonocore, Ruth Burton, Naomi Carman, Arthur Endres, Hilda Orleans and Dorothy Pyles. Our congratulations and thanks to all.

Speaking of outstanding achievement (we were you know). Shannon Easton, Jerry Wamaling and Stephen Slater received a superior rating for both their individual performances and their trio presentation at the Prince Georges Solo and Ensemble Festival held last March in Largo. All three are students from Center School. Well done!

Another Connolly has joined the Greenbelt Citizenry. Michael Alonzo Connolly was born at Holy Cross Hospital on March 22, weighing in at 4 lbs. 12 oz. He joins big sisters Anne, who is 4, and Meg, 2. Proud parents Jane and Michael live in 11 Court Ridge. Jane is a former all-round staff person at the News Review.

We would also like to welcome Vivian Liting Wang, first child of Zen-Yow Wang and Shiu-Hsien Lin. The Wang family live in Springhill Lake.

There were three tables at the local bridge game last week. Tony Pisano and his partner Laura Walker came in first with Peg Wainscott and Ruth Schutzel coming in second.

Murray E. Polakoff, Dean of the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences at the University of Maryland, College Park has announced that Marchelle Ann Ruderman of Lakeside Drive is included on the Dean's List as one of the few students acquiring a 4.0 grade point average for the Fall, 1987 semester. Inclusion on this list is recognition of superior scholastic attainment. Marchelle will attend Wake Forest School of Law after graduation from the University of Maryland in May.

Congratulations to Rachel Turkiewicz for winning the National Mu Phi Epsilon Memorial Foundation Undergraduate String Competition. Rachel is a junior at the Eastman School of Music majoring in viola performance.

Thoughts for the Easter/Passover season from Wendy Hagelgans, age 5: "Before there was anything, there was just dirt and worms. And then God made Greenbelt."

Mary E. Mullaney, a Junior Spanish major at the University of Maryland, will be going to Spain this spring. She joins 116 other students participating in a program affiliated with Marquette University in Wisconsin which sends students to Madrid to become immersed in Spanish culture.

T.G.I. Friday's Celebrates Anniversary with Carnival
